Opened in March 2008, Toro Sushi Bar in Upper Montclair Plaza is the place to go for authentic Japanese cuisine with a modern flair.

Conveniently located behind the Upper Montclair Firehouse and next to Charlie Brown's, owners Andy and Amy have transformed this former Royal Indian restaurant into a thriving Japanese restaurant with excellent food and artistic presentations. The atmosphere of Toro Sushi Bar is warm and friendly, with enthusiastic and gracious service. Its casual, minimalist design and current music playing moderately in the background add to the ambiance. Andy and Amy also owned Sakae Japanese restaurant in Ridgewood for six years.

From the age of 18, Chef Hayasaka trained as a sushi chef in Tokyo. He now brings his 25 years of experience preparing these delicate dishes to Toro Sushi Bar. The restaurant uses all-natural, fresh ingredients for its varied menu, which offers an array of Japanese dishes including many house specialties not found anywhere else. Tuna Dumplings, made with tuna and real blue crab meat, are a must-try appetizer, along with the Red Naruto. They also create Brown Rice Sushi and Special Rolls.

Customers can bring in their own alcoholic drinks to go with their meals. Toro Sushi Bar restaurant also delivers locally.

Starting on Sunday, June 22, Toro Sushi Bar will be open on Sundays for dinner from 4 to 9 p.m. On weekdays, Monday through Thursday, the restaurant is open from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and evenings from 5 to 10 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays it is open from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and evenings from 5 to 10:30 p.m.

Toro Sushi Bar is at 44 Upper Montclair Plaza; telephone 973-746-8555. They have a Web site at www.torosushibar.com.
